Abstract: Tourism is an important service and entertainment linked economic activity. Tourism is one of the world’s largest industries which is the major source of income. The promotion of any place as a tourist destination leads to the economic development of that area and opens various kinds of employment avenues for the local people as well. These are in the nature of four operations, travel agencies, restaurants, hotels and working as guides. Tourism embraces every walk of life. The Kolar District is located at a distance of about 43 miles from Bangalore and 20 miles from Kolar Gold Fields. The city is located on the southern maidan (plains) region of Karnataka. The Kolar District has several attractive places with historical, cultural and religious importance. The study throws light on the opportunities and major challenges faced by Kolar District in the tourism industry. It is observed from the study that lack of various supporting systems, amenities and facilities restricted Kolar District to attract more number of tourist's particularly foreign tourists in spite of having exotic tourist locations across the district.

1. Introduction

In the globalized scenario the state of Karnataka is popularly known as “One State, Many Worlds”. It attracts tourists and historians from all over the world. It has secured several awards from the Government of India in the sphere of tourism. The district of Kolar is one of the prominent centers attracting even international tourists with its rich cultural heritage and tourist attractions. The district is popularly known as “the Land of Gold”. Tourism embraces every walk of life. In the historical annals, the district has a rich religious, cultural, social, and historical heritage over a period of thousands of years. At present it has significant religious, historical, and cultural heritage centers. By attracting national and international tourist population the district made a significant contribution to safeguard its cultural heritage.

2. Derivation of the Name of “Kolar”

The district of Kolar had several names like kolahala, kuvalala, kolahalapura and kualapura. The lord Karthaveeyarjuna used to rule over the district. He was felicitated by a sage with the assistance of a cow called Surabhi when he had paid a visit to the hermitage of Jamadagni. When he tried to snatch away a sacred cow he was killed by Parushurama, the son of Jamadagni. Subsequently, the sage Jamadagni was killed by the children of the lord. The wife of the sage also performed “Satisahagaman”. In the light of the above incidents the angry Parushurama killed the children of Karthaveeryarjuna in a war. The ‘Kolahala’ created by these wars gave the name of ‘Kolahala’. Moreover, the temple of ‘Kolaramma’ was built in memory of the wife of Jamadagni.

3. Noteworthy Tourist Spots

The emperors belonging to various kingdoms viz. Ganga, Nolamba, Baana, Vyudumba, Chola, Hoysala, Chalukya, Vijayanagara, Marathas, Mughals, Hyder, Tippu, British, Mysore Wodeyars ruled over the district of Kolar. The dynasties of feudal lords from the 13th century to 19th century were confined to the places like Gummanayakanapatna, Chikkaballapur, Sridhagatta, Gudibande, Yogavakote, Sugaturu, Harappanayakanahalli and Tadigol. These rulers made a significant contribution to the economic, social, and cultural development of the district.

In the undivided Kolar district there were eleven taluks namely Chintamani, Kolar, Bagepalli, Gudibande, Srinivasa pura, Mulabagilu, Maluru, Bangarapet, Chikkaballapur, Gowribidanuru, and Siddlaghatta. Each and every taluk has places of historical, religious, and cultural importance. The tourist centers attract tourists from national and international level. The district has the proud privilege of having very important places like Banahalli, Arabikothanurm, Santhekallalhalli, Peresandra, Srinivasapura, Kadagathur and Budikote which reflect the rich cultural heritage of the Stone Age. It also contains several royal places with all their splendour and glory. The glorious and rich heritage places of the district continued to attract the tourists.

The taluk of Srinivasapura has an attractive tourist places like Hebbattu, Tadigol, Pulagurakote, Sunakallu, Haralakunte, and Gummaredyypura. The sculptures of the town date back to the Stone Age culture. The ancient pictures of animals were inscribed on the hills of Sunakallu in the taluk of Srinivasapura. These hillocks became adventurous places for tourists.

The famous taluk of Malur has many tourist places like Madivala, Chikkaturupati, Thoranahalli, Kadathur, Shivarpatana and Tekal. Chikkaturupati is one of the sacred places in the taluk of Malur. The Stone images of Shivarpatna are well-known all over the world. The stone images of various gods and goddesses were exported to several countries. Tekal is also a sacred place in the taluk. The Dharmarayaswamy karaga celebrated during “Chaitra Masa” has assumed national importance.
4. Cultural Heritage:

The district of Kolar has an important cultural heritage spots in the state of Karnataka. The fine arts of this district have become famous at the national level. The folk dances and other types of traditional dance are displayed here during various cultural activities. The ‘karaga’ of Malur town continuous to attract the tourists of various parts of the country. Even today the district is famous for various types of arts like ‘Janapada nruthya’, ‘karaga’, ‘karadi kunitha’, ‘sopane pada’, ‘geegi pada’, ‘hari kathe’, ‘bura katha’, ‘dolli kutha’, ‘kamsale pada’, ‘bajane’, ‘kolata’, ‘veeragase’ and ‘yoga’.

The ‘karaga’ dance of Malur has brought laurels to the district. The folk artist of Pindipanahalli Munivenkatappa and his art ‘tamate’ have become famous at the international level.

Anjanappa of Gowribidanur has established a name in the state of Karnataka by his art called ‘mukhaveene’. The district of Kolar is known for its rich historical and cultural heritage.

5. Tourist Opportunities in Kolar District:

As the Indian tourism motto is ‘Athithi Devo Bhava’ (Guest is God), the state of Karnataka is popularly known as ‘One State, Many Worlds’. The district succeeded in attracting national and international tourists. Bengaluru, the IT hub of South India, is located just 30 k. m. away from the district of Kolar. The employees of IT and BT of Bengaluru spend their weekends with their families in the tourist places of this district. The summer resort of Nandi hills and the hillocks of Kaiwara, Tekal, Antharagange, Kuruudumale, Avani, Gummanayakanapalya, Seethi, Muragamale, Mulabagilu, Gopinatha, and Markandeshwara etc. provide peace, happiness and entertainment to the tourists. The tourists also take up activities like trekking and other adventurous feats. The district has some tourist forts with the importance of history and heritage. Some of the popular forts are Nandi fort, Gummanayakanapalya, Ambajiguda, Rehamangad, Sugaturu, Muragamale, Yagavakote, Harappanayakanahalli, Kote betta, Darinayakanapalya, Skandagiri, and Surasadamagiri.

The young entrepreneurs have ample opportunities for investment in the entertainment projects. Despite this the district has hundreds of religious centers. The Department of State Archives, the Government of Karnataka and Archaeological Survey of India at the national and state level identified more than 20 prominent heritage tourist spots in the district. The district also has a considerable number of opportunities for eco-tourism. It is admirable to note that the places like Kolar, Bagepally, Antharagange, and Markandeshwara have taken initiatives to establish eco-parks to encourage tourism.

The district of Kolar is located 50 k. m. away from Bengaluru International Airport. The airport provides an easy access to the development of tourism in this district. The world-famous summer resort of Nandi hills is located 30 k. m. away from the airport. It attracted about one crore tourists during the year 2012-13. The recent railway broad-gauge introduced by the Indian Railway via Bengaluru-Chikkaballapura-Chintamani-Srinivasapura-Kolar-Bengaluru would make a significant contribution to the tourism development in the district.

Despite tourism, the service industries relating to food, accommodation, hotel, resort, and travel agency are bound to enhance the employment opportunities in the district. The district has also a wide scope for establishing tourist circuits.

In the light of the above statistics it becomes clear that there is a wide scope for the growth of national and international tourism in the Kolar district. It also throws light on the substantial potentiality for the development of tourism. The study indicates that it is very essential to enhance accommodation and food facilities in the form of resorts, hotels, cottages, and guest houses.

7. Conclusion

The tourism industry has a great deal of untapped potential to help expand economic opportunities in local communities. The potential hinges upon inclusive business models that integrate the poor into value chains as employees, suppliers, retailers, customers, and beneficiaries, thereby enabling them to build their economic and human capital assets. Because tourism is often the main industry in otherwise isolated locations, relatively small changes can have disproportionate benefits. The tourism development of the district can be effectively taken up by addressing the challenges of transportation, hospitality, and health care.
