

8. Future Scope

More in detail study with larger sample size of respondents from different wards may be done in future to understand more details of problems faced by pavement dwellers. Future study can be done on their standard of living and accessing scenario of basic amenities of life. There is a scope for further study about different types of insecurities of which they become victims. In future a study can be done about their health hazard and mortality –morbidity scenario of their children.

Acknowledgement

I am deeply indebted to my supervisor Asst. Prof. Shubhra Saha Chatterjee, Barrackpore Rastraguru Surendranath College for her stimulating suggestions and encouragement that has helped me during my project. I am thankful to offices of KMDA and Census office for supplying important data and information about this topic.
