

management and he is currently advancing his doctorate degree in that area.

Prof. Kwadwo Adinkrah – Appiah is currently the Vice Chancellor of the Sunyani Technical University. He has done more research works in the area of civil engineering where his interest is in structural engineering. He has been involved in major projects in the country and this has established him as a force to reckon with in his area of specialisation.