Myself Mohammad Mamoon Jan from Srinagar J&K, India. I wanted to share my thought on deadly COVID – 19. I've got an idea regarding its solution , I'm not sure whether it'll work 100 % or not but there's a hope that scientists may find a way to stop this pandemic by this suggestion.

While the whole world is trying to find a vaccine that will kill the virus, I've a Suggestion/Solution that will act as a camouflage for it. We all know that virus needs a host, a healthy body to live in. It attacks the respiratory cell of the human body and it multiplies itself inside the body of that host like other viruses do but COVID – 19 doesn't need to enter the host's nucleus, it can directly access parts of the cell called Ribosome (used to make proteins) this virus has the very special character that it can hide itself easily inside the body of host.

COVID – 19 has the spikes on its body due to which it enters the cell that acts as a KEY. Before further elaboration I would like to illustrate this with an example: Hydrogen, an element in Periodic Table can show reactivity with many other elements like F, Br, I. But if we mix it with I (Iodine) with it, it doesn't show fast reactivity with it. Its more reactive with F (Fluorine). Same case can be with the COVID – 19. The virus itself is having spikes on its body that acts as a KEY. These Keys attacks the protein ACE2 of the respiratory cells (Goblet cells) etc of the human body. It enters into the cell and starts to multiply but if there is a compound, bacteria or we can make our own biological compound towards which it will show more interest or reactivity, then we will inject it inside the human body and virus will be more attracted to it or I can say virus will treat the bacteria/compound as its host. So our bacteria/Compound will now act as a cage and will catch the virus, then Immune system will do its work. People with higher age groups have less immunity to fight against virus but have enough immunity to fight against our created bacteria or compound.

The KEYS of COVID – 19 may have just 80% accuracy to open the lock of respiratory cell ACE2. But to other bacteria it'll show 100% accuracy to open or enter cell with more interest.

So, the plan is that if we have any bacteria or compound or even if we can create any. We need to give human body Immunosuppressants so that bacteria won't die, it will numb the immune system and virus on the other hand it will attack the bacteria treating it as its host. Bacteria acting as the cage will hold the virus for some time, then we need to give some Immune boosters (Vit B6 , C , E) to enable the immunity back to its position or even for its enhancement and then the immune system will kill the bacteria and the virus inside it. So in this way we are going to kill two things with a single stone. But the antidote of that bacteria or Compound should be available so that .After sometime when we will give the antidote/ immunity boosters it will kill the both.

We never know what in this world works so lets hope for it. I've just shared my idea regarding this rest is upto you people

All the best to all scientists may be who knows

It will work
